MAD BULLDOG SHOT DOWN BY POLICEMAN AFTER HE BITES TWO IN WILD CHASE

Thrilling Scenes on West Side as Animal Long Eludes Pursuers.

TEARS DOG TO PIECES.

One Victim's Fingers Torn as He Innocently Tries to Pat Brute.

A heavy shouldered bulldog with a broad brass collar ran out of the New York Central Railroad yards at Forty-sixth Street and Twelfth Avenue, to-day, uttering those short, snapping barks which are indicative of rabies. A few men on the street scattered, and the dog rushed into the boarding stables at No. 609 West Forty-sixth Street.

There Fred Griffenking, a stableman, was bedding down some stalls with a pitchfork. He saw the dog coming and not knowing that he was dangerous as a nitro-glycerine bomb, Griffenking put out a hand to pet him. The beast sunk his teeth in the fingers.

Griffenking tore his hand away and tried to spear the dog with his pitchfork. The animal fled from the barn with the stableman in pursuit.

Down Eleventh Avenue to Forty-second Street ran dog and man. Policeman Burns joined in the chase, but dared not fire at the beast for children were in the street. The chase led to Forty-third Street, through to Eleventh Avenue again.

There Thomas Dalton of No. 556 West Forty-third Street had a setter dog on a leash. To save his dog he kicked at the bull. Instantly heavy jaws clamped upon his toes, teeth cutting through leather and flesh. Policeman Dalton tried to lasso the mad dog with a rope, but failed.

He broke through the ring of excited men and boys and fled down Eleventh Avenue to No. 536. There he tore to pieces a woman's fox terrier. Back to West Forty-sixth Street the brute ran. There in a hallway at No. 625 Policeman Burns managed to cast a rope over his head, strangle him and finally shoot him!

Dr. Robinson, who came with a Polyvalent Hospital ambulance, made sure that the dog was suffering from rabies, then took the two men who had been bitten to the Willard Parker Hospital for the Pasteur treatment.

BURKE AGAIN INDICTED.

New Bribery Charges Against Panama Canal Buyer.

Three additional indictments were returned in the United States District Court to-day against John Burke, charging him with bribery in handling supplies for the Government in the Panama Canal work. One charge he received from Arthur Goldschmidt of B. Lorn & Co. of Hamburg, Germany, $5,000 in an excessive amount of goods at an excessive price.

The third charges him with conspiring with Pascual Cannaboggia to receive, pass and accept goods under similar conditions from Schultz & Huttigebor. The amount received in this was $10,000, making a total "gratuity" of $20,000. Burke was held in $14,000 additional bail by Judge Sessions. His total bail is now $34,000.

CLUB THE GUNMEN! FIRE FIRST! MAYOR TELLS THE POLICE

Wants No Indiscriminate Clubbing of Citizens, but Urges Drastic Action.

WOODS ASSAILS COURTS

Says Judges Sent Only 37 Out of 439 Pistol Carriers to Prison.

"The policeman who can pull and shoot a gun quickest is the best kind of a peace guardian in dealing with a gunman," said Mayor Mitchell to-day.

"I hold that self defense in dealing with gunmen consists of getting there first," explained the Mayor.

The Mayor not only assures the police that clubs will again be trumps, but he insists that they always have been trumps so far as police dealing with gunmen is concerned, and that his orders concerning the use of the revolver and the stick in certain classes of cases have never been revoked.

The Mayor is anxious, however, that there be no return of the old free use of the cop's billy and stick, and in defining his attitude on the gunmen question, he was careful to qualify his remarks.

"BARS CLUBS' USE ON MINOR OFFENDERS."

"Police Commissioner Woods has been under instructions from the very beginning," said the Mayor, "to direct the police to use their clubs when dealing with the crooks, gangsters and gunmen of this city. This is not a question of restoring a use of the clubs to the police. They have them already. The police also have their revolvers and they are entitled to use them in self-defense."

"Now, I hold that self-defense in dealing with gunmen consists in getting there first. The man who is quickest wins out. 'Make this plain as my attitude. I want it made plain that in dealing with gunmen actively playing their trade it is perfectly proper for the police to use their clubs, and with vigor. At the same time I want the police to understand that the use of clubs on law-abiding citizens will not be tolerated."

"I am afraid, I will admit, of a swinging of the pendulum. There

KNOX, AS COUNSEL, MAKES PLEA FOR THAW

Contents That Fugitive, Having Been Declared Insane, Cannot Be Extradited as Criminal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Philander C. Knox, former Secretary of State, appeared in the Supreme Court to-day as an attorney for Harry K. Thaw by filing a brief in behalf of the defendant in opposition to the State of New York's proposal to extradite Thaw from New Hampshire.

Mr. Knox contends that Thaw has been adjudged insane by the New York courts and not responsible for the killing of Stanford White, and that it is a fundamental principle of law that extradition proceedings may not be used for any other purpose than to return a fugitive criminal to his country.

HUGH J. GRANT'S ESTATE IS OVER $8,000,000

Net Income Goes to Widow, Who Has Power to Dispose of the Trust.

The accounting of the trustees of the estate of Hugh J. Grant, filed to-day in the Surrogate's Court, shows the net value of the estate at this time to be $8,008,150.62. The estate has increased in value $399,340 since April, 1913. Mrs. Julie M. Grant, the widow, and the Central Trust Company are the trustees.

In his will ex-Mayor Grant left his widow $500,000 outright and $300,000 to be disposed of according to his wishes expressed to her prior to the execution of the will. The remainder of the estate, now worth over $8,000,000, was left to the widow in trust, she to draw the net income and to have the right to dispose of the trust by will.

TRIED TO REACH MAYOR AND IS ARRESTED

Mitchel Was Leaving Harriman Funeral When Conrad Kreeker Tracked Him.

When Mayor Mitchell was leaving Grace Church, Tenth Street and Broadway, after having attended the funeral services of J. Borden Harriman, a man recognized him and pressed forward in an effort to speak to him. The Mayor, accompanied by Detectives Riley and Doyle of Headquarters, crossed Tenth Street into the side door of Wanamaker's store to avoid the crowd.

The persistent citizen tried to follow through the door and, when barred by the detectives, dived the Mayor's intention and ran around to wait at the Broadway door. There, when the Mayor came out to the sidewalk, he tried again to brush past the detectives. They arrested him. He said he was Conrad Kreeker, a driver of No. 503 West Thirty-seventh Street. He would not say what pressing business he had with the Mayor.

SLAYERS OF BAEF UNCAUGHT 10 DAYS AFTER SHOOTING

Only Meagre Clues to Gunmen Obtained, Although Police Assert Progress.

This is the tenth day since Barnett Baeff was shot to death by two gunmen in crowded West Washington Market. No arrests.

At Headquarters to-day the sum total of real information gathered is this:

1—The first two of four, or possibly five, numbers on the automobile license plate hanging from the rear of the murder car in which the gunmen made their escape from Gansevoort Street are known with reasonable surety. There are 999 other cars in New York State bearing these first two digits.

2—The car was of foreign make, the majority testimony of witnesses say, underslung, painted coffee color and with a brown mohair "shed top."

3—One of the gunmen was short and slender, with a pinched face and the look of an Italian about him. From his appearance he might have been a drug fiend. He carried a nickel plated revolver—not the one subsequently found near the scene of the shooting.

4—The other gunman was large, of very dark, foreign features and "tough looking."

If the hundred and more detectives from Headquarters and the various branch detective bureaus in Harlem and Brownsville have any more tangible fruits of their efforts of ten days to show in their search for two assassins who worked in a crowded street it is being carefully concealed.

Inspector Faurot, seconded by Capt. Carey of the Homicide Bureau, progressed to-day the assurance that progress was being made slowly on the case—nevertheless progress.

LAMAR IS FOUND GUILTY QUICKLY; GETS TWO YEARS

"Wolf of Wall Street" Receives 50 Minute Verdict With Calm Indifference.

It required just fifty minutes to-day for a jury in the Federal District Court, presided over by Judge Sessions, to find David Lamar, "the Wolf of Wall Street," guilty of impersonating a Government officer with intent to defraud.

Immediately after the rendering of the verdict Judge Sessions fixed the punishment at two years in the United States prison at Atlanta, Ga. The case went to the jury at 11:25 o'clock. At 12:15 P. M. the jurors filed into court with their verdict.

Lamar, while pale, received the verdict calmly. He declined to talk about the case, merely saying it was "making a great deal out of a very small matter." Mrs. Lamar also heard the verdict quietly, but showed some agitation.

The usual motions in arrest of judgment and to set aside the verdict were overruled and after a short conference Judge Sessions admitted Lamar to bail in $10,000, pending his suing out a writ of error in appeal. He allowed counsel thirty days in which to prepare the writ. Bail was found and Lamar is at large until the Circuit Court of Appeals can pass upon his case in review of this trial.

Pending the hearing on appeal, no action will be taken on a second indictment which charges Lamar with practically the same offense as the one upon which he stands convicted. A third indictment charges conspiracy with Edward Lauterbach.

The case against Lamar arose out of telephone conversations between Lamar and Lewis Cass Ledyard, in which Lamar was accused of impersonating Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer. The telephone conversations were regarding the Government investigation of the Steel Trust, in connection with which Lamar, through Ledyard, advised the Steel people to employ Lauterbach as counsel.

KING ON FIRING LINE WITH BRITISH TROOPS IN FIGHT FOR COAST

Part of Kitchener's New Army of 1,000,000 Men Joins the French Troops in Attack on the Invaders—Great Artillery Duel.

MORE DYKES ARE OPENED TO DROWN THE INVADERS.

LONDON, Dec. 3 (United Press).—The Allied forces in southwest Belgium have assumed the offensive. King George's reported appearance on the actual firing front was signalized by such a move to-day.

Important reinforcements are reported to have reached both the British and French troops. These new troops include a part of Lord Kitchener's second army of 1,000,000 men and fresh French troops which have been enabled to move to the front with the arrival of equipment so badly needed by General Joffre. The Allied force now in Belgium aggregates at least 700,000 men.

This explains the massing of Germans between Ostend and Ypres. A general concentration has been reported south of Ostend. The German reinforcements are declared to number 160,000, but it is now believed that the concentration has been made necessary by the drive started by the allies rather than a contemplated resumption of the attempt of the enemy to pierce the line along the Yser.

The allies have prepared for their attack by flooding new territory south of Dixmude in an attempt to drown the Germans from their trenches.

The bringing up of German reinforcements is taken to indicate that a determined stand is to be made and the success of the effort to reach Calais staked upon a decisive engagement along the present battle line.

The forward movement of the allies is certain to be marked by a general engagement of great proportions. The French and British warships are reported to have resumed a bombardment of the coast and will support the land forces in the general attack to be made.

600,000 Germans Lined Up For New Battle for the Coast

PARIS, Dec. 3 (United Press).—Heavy cannonading by the Germans with a vigorous reply by the allies guns marked the fighting in the region between Ypres and Arras to-day. The allies continued to press their offensive south of Laon, but only slight progress is reported.

Upward of 600,000 Germans are declared to be on the front from the sea to Ypres.

The official communique to-day confirms the private advices as to lively cannonading both at Neuport and in the Ypres.

The Germans are also again being flooded in the vicinity of Dixmude. The inundation by the opening of the dykes now extends south of that place.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—(Associated Press).—The French official report given out this afternoon says that yesterday there was a rather lively artillery exchange at Neuport and to the south of Ypres and that a heavy bombardment took place to the west of Lens. In the Argonne several German attacks were repulsed. The text of the communication follows:

"In Belgium there was a rather lively artillery fire directed against Neuport and to the south of Ypres.

"The inundations have extended to the south of Dixmude. From the Lys to the Somme there has been a violent bombardment, particularly at Aix-Noulette, to the west of Laon.

"There was quiet along the entire front from the Somme to the Aisne and in Champagne.

"In the Argonne several attacks on the present enemy were repulsed and we made slight progress.

"In the Woerthe district the German artillery evidenced a certain activity, but with insignificant results.

"In Lorraine and in the Vosges there is nothing important to report."

Krupp Gun Factory at Essen Bombed From an Airship

LONDON, Dec. 3 (Associated Press).—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company quotes a message from Berlin to the effect that the Krupp factory at Essen, Germany, was bombed yesterday by an aircraft.
